

Inspiring Clarity

A Workshop with Horses October 24, 2009

Held at Full House Farm with

Christine Cole, Equine Expansion Coach

Reveal your potential through focused interaction with horses at liberty

- Find your place in the world of business, family and intimate relationships
- Discover the creative power of play
- Experience the expansive fluidity of relationship in every moment

"I invite you to join me from 9 a.m. - 4 p.m. on Saturday for a journey into how to establish a sense of empowered, creative living by spending time with the horses as a herd member. Discover the feeling of inclusion with the wild spirit of the horse at liberty and you will touch on what a life at liberty can mean for you!"

~Christine

Participant Fee: $225 (includes lunch)

About Christine Cole

Christine Cole has been living with horses for 50 years. She enjoys demonstrating how we are connected to everything in every moment. It is only in that connected state that we have access to true inspiration. Horses have been her bridge to this connection. Christine has the unique ability to illuminate how to access a state of quietude that leads to inspired living.
